

ERIC THOMPSON

REGIONAL SALES MANAGER

With over 30 years of experience in oil & gas manufacturing, Eric is well-versed in producing quality products in a job shop environment. Eric started working in machine shops at 16, beginning his career at a well-known job shop in the NW Houston area in January 1995. After graduating from Tomball High School, he went full-time and continued working there until 2005. In 2005, he and his business partner launched their own machine shop, which they successfully ran for 19 years before selling it in January 2024. Eric stayed on board to help facilitate the ownership transition through May.

In June 2024, Eric was pleased to join Faith Manufacturing. Eric brings a wealth of knowledge to an already-tenured team. His expertise in manufacturing principles and his genuine relatability are two attributes that will foster a true connection with Faith's customer base, ensuring solid relationships are formed, machining needs are met, and solutions are presented at every level of the commercial transaction.
